

Lam Lok Kan, Joyce

Graduate of Associate of Arts in English for Professional Communication in 2007
Student of Bachelor of Arts (Hons) in English for Professional Communication, City University of Hong Kong

With its strong emphasis on English language, communication skills, cultural and media studies, and project promotion and organization, the Associate of Arts programme in English for Professional Communication has given me a solid foundation for further study and employment. Thanks to my experienced and caring lecturers, I am now working on a BA programme at City University.