To me, life at CCCU was fruitful and full of happiness. I studied various courses from PR to languages, from designing to writing, which gave me useful and practical knowledge, preparing me to be a student who has competence. The final year project we did in the last semester was challenging but worth doing as we could both experience the real world and learn how to co-operate with others at the same time. Everyone grew up and learnt a lot from this project. I discovered that what I experienced and learned at CCCU are helpful for my studies now and prepare me for my future career.
