

Lai Wing Wah
Student of Associate of Engineering

Being a student of Associate of Engineering in Community College of City University has enabled me to acquire a lot of invaluable experience.

Every one of the teachers at the College is devoted to making our time at the College the best learning experience possible. They are enthusiastic and willing to help students to overcome learning difficulties. Supported by a well-designed curriculum, the programme has equipped students with practical knowledge and skills. Students cannot grasp the subject just by memorizing the content. We have to understand thoroughly everything we learn. Here in this programme, students are encouraged to help each other to learn and they are given effective training in preparation for further degree studies.
