

MA Ka Yan, Karen

Graduate of Associate of Business Administration in Marketing in 2008

Student of Bachelor of Business Administration in Marketing, City University of Hong Kong

The two years of study at the Community College of City University (CCCU) has given me a great experience. As a CCCU student, I could enjoy the same campus facilities as other City University students, which provided an excellent learning environment to me. The courses offered by CCCU are professional and practical; it equipped me with the knowledge for further study in the degree program as well as future career development. I believe that studying at CCCU is the key to a bright future.
