

Chu Wai Lun, Alaster

Year 2 Student of Associate of Science in Applied Business Statistics

During my study in the Associate of Science in Applied Business Statistics at CCCU, I have acquired the knowledge in Statistics, Business and Information Technology which helped me to prepare my career in market research and statistics. The syllabus also prepares students for the exam of the Higher Certificate of the Hong Kong Statistics Society. Apart from study, the Division always organizes activities for the students so that students from different programmes can meet together. Apart from a group of good friends, I have also met many good lecturers. They all teach us with their heart and treat us as friends.

I am the first group of graduates. With my rewarding experience studying CCCU, I strongly believe that the students enrolling in this programme will also have an equally rewarding experience.
