

PANEL DISCUSSION - ACADEMIC LEADERSHIP IN E-LEARNING

PANELISTS:

Dr Han-Chieh Chao 趙涵捷 博士
(Director, Computer Centre, Ministry of Education, Taiwan)

Professor Stephen Marshall
(Director, Learning and Teaching @ UNSW, The University of New South Wales, Kensington, NSW, Australia)

Mr Steve Ryan (Director, Centre for Learning Technology, The London School of Economics and Political Science, United Kingdom)

Dr Guodong Zhao 赵国栋 博士
(Associate Professor, Modern Education Technology Centre, Peking University, The People's Republic of China)

2

In your institution, what is the general view on the use and value of e-learning?

Do you have an institutional strategy to deploy
e-learning?

What is your organization structure for managing your e-learning effort?

3

At a regional level, what is the general view on the use and value of e-learning in your region?

Do you have a regional strategy for the deployment of e-learning for higher education and K-12?

4

Many people here today are considering expanding the use of e-learning in their home institution or region, do you have any advice for them?