Guidelines for Leave of Absence
(for Professional Doctorate students only)

1. Students who for valid reasons are temporarily unable to pursue studies at the University can apply for leave of absence. Any period of approved absence is normally on a full semester basis, up to a maximum cumulative period of four semesters.

2. The period of leave of absence taken will be counted in the calculation of maximum period of study for the following categories of students:
   a. DBA students admitted in 2010 and thereafter.
   b. JSD students admitted in 2008 and thereafter.
   c. EngD(EM) students admitted in 2012 and thereafter.

3. Applications for leave of absence should be made one month before the start of the semester concerned. Each application can cover at most two semesters. If approved, students must pay a continuation fee during the leave period.

4. Applications received after the start of the semester will be considered only on an exceptional basis. If approved, the period of leave of absence will take retroactive effect from the beginning of the semester. Students applying for retroactive approval of leave of absence should note that they may be required to pay the tuition fees for courses they have registered before their leave application is approved depending on the date of application submission. For details, please check the SGS Web site: www.cityu.edu.hk/sgs/.

5. Special attendance or assessment arrangements may be required if there are changes to the structure of the programme during the period of leave of absence. On occasions where the programme is to be phased out, resumption of studies in the same programme may not be possible.

6. Students are not allowed to register simultaneously in another programme of study in the University or in any other institution without the prior permission of the Chow Yei Ching School of Graduate Studies. This also applies to students who are on leave.
