Notes to Schools/Departments in processing OAPA/RTS/IRTS applications

1. Application with incomplete supporting documents should not be processed. In particular, publication(s) without documentary proof [i.e. the front page of the paper(s) (if published) or the letter of acceptance (if accepted but not yet published) and the proof for published/accepted date of the paper(s)] should not be counted.
2. Please collect recommendations from respective research supervisors.
3. Please check the eligibility of students as follows:
 - a) are admitted under the UGC-allocated, UGC-boosted and UGC-related (for RTS) and that under the Institutional-funded quota (for IRTS);
 - b) are within their normal/stipulated period of study with reference to the start date of the award period;
 - c) (applicable to OAPA only) have undertaken their current MPhil/PhD studies for at least twelve calendar months of study counting from the commencement date of study up to the starting date of the award period (excluding period of study interruption, if any);
 - d) (i) obtain a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.50, with no failures, in all the prescribed courses completed at the time of application; or (ii) have an outstanding publication record with a cumulative GPA of 3.00 or above, with no failures, in all the prescribed courses completed at the time of application;
 - e) have good study progress as reported by the Qualifying Panel; and
 - f) year 3 students or above must have at least one good quality paper published or accepted for publication whilst studying at the University.
4. Forward Department's nominations (including application forms and the recommended list in predefined format) to C/SGSC for consideration according to the specified schedule.
5. For students who are considered very outstanding, Schools/Departments may nominate them for CYCSGS Scholarship using Form SGS40. CYCSGS Scholarship awardees will not be considered for RTS as two awards cannot be held concurrently.

Regulations Governing Outstanding Academic Performance Award for Research Degree Students

Purpose of the Award

1. The purpose of the Outstanding Academic Performance Award for Research Degree Students is to recognize students with outstanding academic performance in their research studies.

Number of Awards

2. The maximum number of students receiving the Awards should not exceed 25% of the total number of research students (by head counts) who are within their (normal) study period.

Eligibility

3. All research degree students who have completed at least twelve calendar months of study counting from the commencement date of study up to the starting date of the award period (excluding period of study interruption, if any) and are within their (normal) study period are eligible to apply for the award.

Criteria for Award

4. The criteria indicated below are the normal thresholds and the actual award will be determined on the basis of the competition in each application round in terms of the academic merit of applicants:
 - (a) (i) obtain a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.50, with no failures, in all the prescribed courses completed at the time of application; or (ii) have an outstanding publication record with a cumulative GPA of 3.00 or above, with no failures, in all the prescribed courses completed at the time of application;
 - (b) have good study progress as reported by the Qualifying Panel;
 - (c) year 3 students or above must have at least one good quality paper published or accepted for publication whilst studying at the University.

Awards

5. The Award will be in the form of a certificate. In addition, students who receive the award will also be given a cash prize of HK$1,000, subject to the availability of funding. Students will be presented a certificate of award issued by the Chow Yei Ching School of Graduate Studies in an annual award presentation ceremony.

Regulations Governing Research Tuition Scholarships

Purpose

1. The purpose of the Research Tuition Scholarship is to recognize and reward students with outstanding academic performance. It is a meritorious award and is granted on a strictly competitive basis.

Number of Awards

2. The maximum number of students receiving scholarships should be maintained at around 20% of the total number of UGC-funded research students (by head count) who are within their study period.

Value of the Scholarship

3. The Scholarship is in the form of an exemption for students from paying tuition fees. If granted a Scholarship, full-time students will be exempted from paying one year's fees. The equivalent exemption for part-time students will be two years' fees. This is not a cash award and cannot be held concurrently with other awards covering tuition fees.

Criteria for Awards

4. The criteria indicated below are the normal thresholds and the actual award will be determined on the basis of the competition in each application round in terms of the academic merit of applicants.

New Students

5. Consideration of applications from new students is mainly based on their entry qualifications. Those with (a) a bachelor's first class honours (or equivalent qualifications) or (b) a good postgraduate degree and publication record will be considered for the award.

Current Students

6. Current students applying for the award (including renewal) should satisfy the following minimum criteria:
 - (a) (i) obtain a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.50, with no failures, in all the prescribed courses completed at the time of application; or (ii) have an outstanding publication record with a cumulative GPA of 3.00 or above, with no failures, in all the prescribed courses completed at the time of application;
 - (b) have good study progress as reported by the Qualifying Panel and satisfactorily carried out any assigned departmental duties as certified by the Head of Department;
 - (c) year 3 students or above must have at least one good quality paper published or accepted for publication whilst studying at the University.
7. Individual colleges/schools/departments may stipulate other additional assessment criteria, such as contribution to departmental duties, teaching performance etc., as appropriate, to the award criteria for Research Tuition Scholarships.

Duration of the Award and Periodic Checking

8. The award is tenable until the end of a student's study period. It is granted on a yearly basis for full-time students and on a biennial basis for part-time students, and renewal is subject to competition and the continuing outstanding performance of the student.
9. Checking on a semester/term basis will be performed and those scholarship recipients identified as having a cumulative GPA below 3.00 or with failure grades will have their scholarship discontinued.

Withdrawal/Suspension of the Award

10. The Chow Yei Ching School of Graduate Studies reserves the right to withdraw or suspend the award if the student's overall performance is found to be unsatisfactory.

Regulations Governing Institutional Research Tuition Scholarships

(applicable to students admitted under the “Institutional PhD Scholars Scheme” only)

Purpose

1. The purpose of the Institutional Research Tuition Scholarship is to recognize and reward students with outstanding academic performance. It is a meritorious award and is granted on a strictly competitive basis.

Source of Funding

2. University’s non-UGC funds.

Eligibility

3. Institutional-funded students will be eligible to apply for consideration of the Scholarship.

Value of the Scholarship

4. The scholarship covers 50% of the full-time self-financing tuition fees. This is not a cash award and cannot be held concurrently with other awards covering tuition fees (except Institutional Research Tuition Grant).

Criteria for Awards

5. The criteria indicated below are the normal thresholds for the award/continuation of scholarship.

New Students

6. Consideration of new students is mainly based on their entry qualifications at the time of admission. No separate application is required.

Current students

7. Current students should satisfy the following minimum criteria:
 - (a) (i) obtain a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.50, with no failures, in all the prescribed courses completed at the time of application; or (ii) have an outstanding publication record with a cumulative GPA of 3.00 or above, with no failures, in all the prescribed courses completed at the time of application; or (iii) have other exceptional qualifications;
 - (b) have good study progress as reported by the Qualifying Panel and satisfactorily carried out any assigned departmental duties as certified by the Head of Department;
 - (c) year 3 students or above must have at least one good quality paper published or accepted for publication whilst studying at the University.
8. Individual colleges/schools/departments may stipulate other additional assessment criteria, such as contribution to departmental duties, teaching performance etc., as appropriate, to the award criteria for Research Tuition Scholarships.

Duration of the Award and Periodic Checking

9. The Scholarship is granted on a yearly basis and is tenable until the end of a student’s normal study period. Consideration of the Scholarship is subject to availability of funds and his/her satisfying the minimum criteria for awards.
10. Checking on a semester/term basis will be performed and those scholarship recipients identified as having a cumulative GPA below 3.00 will have their scholarship discontinued.

Withdrawal/Suspension of the Award

11. The Chow Yei Ching School of Graduate Studies reserves the right to withdraw or suspend the award if the student’s overall performance is found to be unsatisfactory.
