

CCCL Visiting Researcher Application Form

Instructions

- 1) Please use black or blue pen to complete this form in Chinese or English.
- 2) Applications that fail to provide all the information/materials required in this form will not be considered.
- 3) The Centre for Chinese and Comparative Law reserves the right to require applicant to provide information/materials other than those listed in this form that are relevant to the applicant's application for consideration.
- 4) Visit period normally cannot be longer than three months. Given June to August each year are our University's summer holidays, the Centre for Chinese and Comparative Law generally will not approve any visit to start during this period.
- 5) To ensure there is sufficient time to process the application, any application should be submitted to the Centre for Chinese and Comparative Law AT LEAST THREE MONTHS before the proposed date to commence the visit.

Notes

- 1) A non-local applicant whose visit application is accepted by the Centre for Chinese and Comparative Law can only start his/her visit after he/she has obtained valid visa issued by the Immigration Department of the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region. The Centre for Chinese and Comparative Law will assist successful applicants in applying for training visas to come to Hong Kong to receive training.
- 2) Applicants must note that they are required to arrange their accommodations during their stay in Hong Kong. All the expenses incurred during the visit (including but not limited to air fare; transportation expenses; expenses on meals, books, accommodation, phone calls, photocopying, etc.) have to be borne by the applicants (or their affiliated institutions).
- 3) Successful applicants are supposed to spend most of their visit period to stay in Hong Kong to receive training and conduct their research. They should notify the Centre for Chinese and Comparative Law in writing at the time of application if they have planned to leave Hong Kong for more than one week during the visit period.
- 4) Each successful applicant is required to give a one-hour public seminar at the Centre for Chinese and Comparative Law before the end of his/her visit period to report on the research that he/she has conducted during the visit.
