

School of Law strengthens collaboration with Mainland Law School

20 April 2010

School of Law (SLW) has strived to maintain close bondage with various prominent law schools in the Mainland of China, including the School of Law, Beijing Normal University (BNULAW). BNULAW was established in 2006, comprising of Legal Division and Criminal Division. In four years time, it has earned praises in various aspects, including teaching, research, community service and international exchange.

Professor Zhao Bingzhi, Dean of BNULAW and Professor Wang Guiguo, Dean of SLW signed an agreement on academic exchanges and collaboration on 20 April 2010. The agreement aims at strengthening institutional exchanges among faculty and students.

Afterwards, Professor Wang accepted with gratitude the appointment of Visiting Professor from Professor Han Zhen, Vice President of the Beijing Normal University (BNU); and Distinguished Professor from Professor Gao Mingxuan, Honorary Dean of Criminal Division of BNULAW.

Professor Wang Guiguo and Professor Zhao Bingzhi (right) (Beijing Normal University)

(Beijing Normal University)

(Scarlette Cheung)

Professor Wang conducted an academic seminar for participating faculty and students. He proposed that faculties and students of SLW and BNULAW could share their insights on legal issues via video-link facility.