Abstract:
Information technology (IT) is playing a pivotal role in social life, the persuasive power of IT is affecting the younger generation in particular. This article summarizes the meaning and characteristics of youth. And we explore some theories relating adolescent’s demands and development, social changing and social values. In order to understand the youth’s attitudes to the social changing and social impacts of IT, we have conducted a survey on youth’s reflection to social changing, youth’s feelings about the future and youth’s values. Some conclusions are drawn on the basis of the survey.

Key words: Social changing; Youth; Existence; Development; Value