Postgraduate Forum 2017
Planning Your Career in Academia: Job Searching, Interview and be a Competent Junior Researcher

Have you planned ahead your career in academia? If you don’t have a clear picture at the moment, it would be worthwhile to learn from the experiences of successful academics. This forum offers an opportunity for beginners to plan in advance how to achieve the greatest success in their academic career with the helpful suggestions from our speakers’ real life experiences in academia. It will also provide an opportunity for the audience to explore and discuss their concerns interactively with the speakers.

Biography:
Prof ZUKERMAN Moshe
ZUKERMAN Moshe received his B.Sc. in Industrial Engineering and Management and his M.Sc. in Operation Research from Technion - Israel Institute of Technology and a Ph.D. degree in Engineering from The University of California Los Angeles in 1985.

He was an independent consultant with IRI Corporation and a post-doctoral fellow at UCLA during 1985-1986. In 1986 he moved to Australia and joined Telecom Australia. During 1986-1997 he served in Telecom (Telstra from 1993) Research Laboratories (TRL), first as a research engineer and between 1988-1997 as a project leader managing a team of researchers providing expert advice to Telstra on network design and traffic engineering, and on traffic aspects of evolving telecommunications standards.

He is a co-recipient of the TRL Outstanding Achievement Award in 1990.

Between 1990-2001, he has also taught and supervised graduate students at Monash University. Between 1997-2008 he was with The University of Melbourne, as a senior research fellow (1997-1998), associate professor (1998-2001), and professor (2001-2008). Since December 2008 he has been with the Electronic Engineering Department of City University of Hong Kong and as a Chair Professor of Information Engineering and a team leader.

He has served as a session chair and member of technical and organizing committees of numerous national and international conferences. He gave tutorials in several major international conferences such as IEEE ICC and IEEE GLOBECOM. He served on the editorial board of the Australian Telecommunications Research Journal, during 1991-1996, Computer Networks during 1999-2003, and as a Series Editor for the IEEE Communications Magazine (2001-2004), IEEE/ACM Transactions on Networking (2001-2008), and International Journal of Communication Systems (1996-2008). He also served as a Guest Editor of IEEE JSAC for two issues: Future Voice Technologies and Analysis and Synthesis of MAC Protocols. Presently, he is serving on the editorial board of Computer Communications and as a Senior Editor of IEEE JSAC. He submitted contributions and represented Australia in several ITU-T/CCITT standards meetings. Professor Zukerman has over 350 publications in scientific journals and conference proceedings and has been awarded several national and international patents.

He is a Fellow of the IEEE.

Dr LI Yanzhi David
LI Yanzhi David obtained his Bachelor degree in Computer Science from Tsinghua University and PhD degree in Industrial Engineering and Logistics Management from Hong Kong University of Science and Technology. His research interests include: (1) Solving practice-triggered challenging problems with analytics and optimization and developing actionable plans and systems. (2) Interface research between Operations and Marketing/Finance, such as pricing and inventory management, channel management, and supply chain finance. (3) Sustainability and operations management. He has received Research Excellence Award and Excellent PhD Supervisor Award from College of Business, City University of Hong Kong.

Date: 21 June 2017 (Wednesday)
Time: 4:00pm - 6:00pm
Venue: LT8, 4/F, Yeung Kin Man Academic Building

Programme
4:00pm – 4:15pm  Tea Reception
4:15pm – 4:20pm  Welcoming Address by Prof Kelvin YAU, Associate Dean of Graduates Studies
4:20pm – 5:40pm  Forum Speakers: Prof ZUKERMAN Moshe and Dr LI Yanzhi David
5:40pm – 6:00pm  Q & A Session

Registration (For postgraduate students):
www.cityu.edu.hk/sgs
Enquiry: sg@cityu.edu.hk or 3442-9076

Organised by Chow Yei Ching School of Graduate Studies

All postgraduate students and staff are welcome to attend!