BBA — Management

The Management major equips students with the abilities and tools to successfully manage people and the organization in local and international environments. Students will acquire the knowledge to deal with management challenges globally including decision making, leadership and motivation. It offers a choice of two distinctive streams—Human Resources Management (HRM) as well as Strategy and International Management (SIM).

The management major will help graduates develop skills in learning, interpersonal communication, multitasking and teamwork. In addition, it helps enhance creativity, emotional intelligence and business etiquette.

Human Resources Management (HRM) stream
1. Enable students to apply intellectual skills in human resource management and demonstrate sensitivity to multicultural issues.
2. Develop in students practical skills in key areas of people – management and technical skills required of a generalist, a specialist, and a consultant in human resources management.

Strategy and International Management (SIM) stream
1. Equip students with the knowledge and skills to develop effective strategies to manage in the international business environment, particularly in the Asia Pacific Region.
2. Allow students to understand how firms operate in the international environment and gain an in-depth understanding of the development and implementation of international strategies.

Summer Internship

Summer Internship Program is designed to enhance student learning through work experience in industry during summer. This departmental program is now a credit-bearing major elective course for second-year and/or third-year students of Department of Management. Successfully placed students, after interviews, will normally work in an organization for a period of six to twelve weeks, between June and August. Placements will be either through companies introduced by the Department or students can look for their own internship.

HO Li Shan Debbie
Year 4, BBA MGMT Student at New Zealand Trade and Enterprise

My internship at New Zealand Trade & Enterprise is a very fruitful experience. I have got the chance to reach out and communicate with various Hong Kong and Macau retailers, distributors, hotels and food service representatives. I have also gained experience in the B2B business environment by attending business events & meetings, giving presentations to business entities, communicating & arranging meetings with overseas companies. All these exposures to the real business environment have enhanced my skills in business communication as well as knowledge of making local and international trades.

CHAN Tsz Ching Jasmine
Year 4, BBA MGMT Student at Urban Renewal Authority

I worked as a summer intern in the Corporate Service Department of Urban Renewal Authority. My responsibility is to participate in the authority’s publication, be in charge of updating official website, organize the documents of all departments and handle data entry.

In this internship, I have enhanced my attention to details. For the publication, I must be careful of the message sent out and the overall presentation. This working attitude is valuable to my career growth. In addition, I have learnt to be a good team player. For example, I have to coordinate with different departments and the board to complete my job duty. I have understood the importance of departmental operation in running a company smoothly.

Exchange Programme

With more organizations going global, joining a multinational organization has been the goal for most students. City University of Hong Kong provides numerous exchange opportunities in each academic year. Take the chance to engage yourself in a new learning environment, immerse in a different culture while acquiring new skills which will be useful for your future development.

Exchange in Barcelona, Spain
HO, Ka Yin Kathy
Year 4, BBA MGMT student

In Semester B 2016/17, I was at Autonomous University of Barcelona for an exchange programme. It was the most fruitful five months ever. Whilst Spain is a diverse, multicultural country, I felt awkward at first as I am considered an ethnic minority there. Fortunately, Spanish people are very kind and passionate. My classmates and hall mates invited me to parties, mountains and beaches. I am really grateful that I have chosen a place without many people from Hong Kong. This gave me the opportunity to interact with the local Spanish people.

BBA MGMT Graduate

Business knowledge is undoubtedly crucial for a job in the business sector. I would say social communication skills are important for a successful career, especially when we have to work as a team. The BBA(IBJ) Programme (now SIM stream) provided me with professional knowledge and helped me develop a keen business sense. It also provided the chance to develop my interpersonal skills through a series of activities. I found that what I gained from the Department of Management is practical and relevant to my workplace.
