Application of Machine Learning techniques on a Crowd-sourced air quality monitoring (C-AQM) System

“OIS allowed me to challenge and train myself academically in a subject area that I was previously vaguely familiar with. I greatly enjoyed and appreciated the hands-on learning approach.... The summer spent living independently and working in an independent environment where I had the opportunity to manage my own time at each stage was in many ways, refreshing.

OIS experience was challenging, eye-opening, and most importantly enjoyable!”
