Advanced research experience for undergraduate students

Project Number: 6000592

Principal Investigator: Dr. Jin Young KIM

Grant Type: TSG

Abstract:

Research fields for biology are getting -- growing fast these days to help our lives. However, during undergraduate study, majority of students cannot have enough experience to decide their careers as scientists. I believe this is one of important reasons why students think research is difficult. Through this project, I want to encourage undergraduate students to have interest in research and feel friendly with science
