Extending the Literature Classroom: Creating Space for Student Discovery

Project Number: 6000691

Principal Investigator: Dr. Eric SANDBERG

Grant Type: TSG

Abstract:

This project addresses a lack of student agency in the discovery of and response to literary works by undergraduate-level literature students. It is intended to encourage and assist students in discovering new genres, authors, and texts, and to help them present video and written responses to these texts in an online platform. It will thus extend student learning beyond the confines of the classroom, and encourage independent learning and discovery.
