

ONE HEALTH DAY

Join us on celebrating the One Health Day at City University of Hong Kong

Nowadays, the planet is facing diverse challenges, from climate change, biodiversity loss, and pandemics. Hence, inter and transdisciplinary actions are crucial to solve such multi-factorial issues.

The main role of the One Health approach is to encourage the collaboration between health scientists, policy makers and other relevant sectors, in order to promote public awareness and develop effective strategies to deal with the new upcoming challenges.

For this reason, the Center for Applied One Health Research and Policy Advice (OHRP) is inviting you to celebrate the One Health Day with the aim of contributing to public awareness about the concept, and the importance of taking local actions to help facing global challenges.

ACTIVITIES

PUBLIC AWARENESS POSTERS:

The VM2001 students will present thematic posters about chosen zoonotic diseases.

GAMES:

The OHRP prepared a educational One Health game that can be played during the event.

INFORMATIVE VIDEOS:

Different informative videos will be displayed with relevant information about related topics, produced by international agencies, such as the WHO, WOA, and CDC.

Date: 3rd November 2022

Time: From 11:00 AM to 16:00 PM

Venue: Wong's International Terrace B

Official Website:

