3. Teaching and Learning Activities (TLAs)

(TLAs designed to facilitate students' achievement of the CILOs.)

TLA	Brief Description	CILO No.							Hours/week (if applicable)
		1	2	3	4	5	6	7
Lectures	students will be introduced to substantive criminal offences, their constituent parts and to key concepts and issues.								2
Tutorial	Tutorials provide an opportunity for student led activity and discussions of issues. The format of these activities will be discussed in the class in the first week of the course.								1
	By reading Ordinances, cases and other material and by research material students will acquire knowledge of the substantive content of the criminal justice system.
	Tutorial activities will enable students to analyse and evaluate issues and concerns in substantive criminal law offences and provide a forum where those issues and concerns can be identified, discussed and evaluated.
Reading Week (Week 7)	During the Reading Week students are asked to develop their knowledge in the subject by doing further reading and research on the conceptual and theoretical sides of the subject.

4. Assessment Tasks/Activities (ATs)

(ATs are designed to assess how well the students achieve the CILOs.)

Assessment Tasks/Activities	CILO No.							Weighting	Remarks
	1	2	3	4	5	6	7
Continuous Assessment: 50%
Written assignment(s)								30%
Students' skills of legal research, critical analysis, organisation and written communication will be tested. Students will be expected to divide into a group of four to do a written group assignment / project, to show a good understanding and appreciation of English and of the use of English, and to learn team work skill.
Tutorial activities and overall participation								20%
Each student will be assessed on his/her comments, questions and answers given during tutorials (apart from the tutorial designated for that student's Class Participation (Sub-Group) - see above), in terms of each student's display of his/her ability to discuss and explain the material for the particular tutorial as well as the ability to question and challenge oral presentations by other members of their group.
Examination: 50% (duration: 2 or 3 hours, if applicable)
Students' ability to describe and explain the purpose and operation of substantive criminal offences, their constituent parts and components and the principles, objectives and purposes underpinning those substantive offences will be tested as will the ability to apply those principles to given situations and to resolve issues and problems relating to the operation of the criminal law. As with the written assignment(s) students will be expected to show a good standard of written English and to express themselves clearly, accurately and concisely.								50%
								100%

To pass this course, students must obtain an aggregate mark of 40% and a minimum of 40% in each of the coursework and the examination elements of the assessment. Coursework for this purpose means those ways in which students are assessed otherwise than by the end of session examination.

The portion of the overall mark allocated to performance/participation in inter-active in class activities will be assessed on the quality of the participation. Assessment criteria for those activities, their nature and their timing will be advised and expanded upon by the course leader.

The duration of the examination may last for 2 or 3 hours and it will be at the discretion of the course leader. The course leader will announce the duration of the examination in the first week of the course. Similarly the course leader will announce whether the examination will be closed book or open book.

To enable the full benefit to be obtained from this course, students should attend all of the classes and activities.

Assessment will be formative to enable students to demonstrate their capacity to understand, analyse and apply rules and principles and summative to assess ability to synthesise primary and secondary material to solve novel problems.

5. Assessment Rubrics

(Grading of student achievements is based on student performance in assessment tasks/activities with the following rubrics.)

2. Reading List

2.1 Compulsory Readings

(Compulsory readings can include books, book chapters, or journal/magazine articles. There are also collections of e-books, e-journals available from the CityU Library.)

Michael Jackson (2003), Criminal Law in Hong Kong, Hong Kong University Press (ISBN 9622095585) (Paperback).

Details of other texts and other reference material will be circulated during the course.

As Hong Kong's Criminal Law is based upon that of England and Wales, English texts on criminal law may be used to supplement and complement Hong Kong texts. Students may find the latest editions of Smith and Hogan, Criminal Law (Butterworths), and Smith and Hogan Criminal Law Cases and Materials (Butterworths) useful though there are other texts.

Nutshells, SWOT and similar books are NOT suitable replacements for textbooks or for reports of cases in Law Reports. They do not provide the in depth knowledge and understanding of the subject that will be needed to successfully negotiate open book examinations.

2.2 Additional Readings

(Additional references for students to learn to expand their knowledge about the subject.)
