

Ronald Wu is an impact, sustainability, and development leader with experience across multilateral development institutions, private-sector advisory, environmental policy, and international law. At the World Bank and IFC, he designed and implemented programs linking development, environmental, and social outcomes with policy reform, financing, and technical standards across China, Mongolia, the Philippines, and Vietnam.

Ronald later built and led UBS's APAC sustainability advisory platform from inception, advising institutional clients and engaging listed companies, regulators, NGOs, and media on sustainability strategy, disclosure, stewardship, and capital mobilization. He also serves as an Investment Committee Member of the Hong Kong Scout Foundation, contributing to governance and oversight of a charitable foundation portfolio.

Ronald holds a Juris Doctor and a Master of Arts in Environmental Science from Duke University, and a Bachelor of Arts in Politics, Philosophy, and Economics and History from the University of Pennsylvania.
