As a Wise Walker, my duty was to provide tutorials and support to children whose parents are with visual/hearing impairment. Through interactions with these families, I’ve learnt the importance of patience and mutual understanding. The valuable participation in this programme will definitely be a precious memory in my University life.

Will you recruit rehabilitated ex-prisoners? "NO!" This might be many people's prejudices. We therefore designed an event “Human Library Day” to give the public an opportunity to learn more about the lives of people with special backgrounds, such as ex-mentally ill patients and ex-prisoners. We organized both sharing sessions and visits to them. It has enlightened me to be more inclusive and open-minded, and I learnt to treat others with sincerity and respect.

In WebMaker, we helped non-profit making NGOs design and build up their websites. I learnt to build website 2 years ago and have gained communication experience and skill. Last year, I developed a website for an elderly centre. This year, being promoted as a Senior Servant Leader, I lead junior WebMakers to build another webpage for a NGO. With the past experience, I believe we would be able to serve more NGOs and make it a sustainable project.

IDEA Campaign: To promote CityU Campus's inclusive culture
共融周 — IDEA 運動：推動城大校園的共融文化

Counselling Service of Student Development Services has hosted the Inclusion Diversity Equity Awareness (IDEA) Campaign from 26 February to 1 March 2018. The aim is to deliver the message of inclusion and equity in CityU campus and to raise the awareness towards students with Special Educational Needs (SEN). There were various activities during the kick-off ceremony including music performance, sign language dance, Loving Stone workshop, handicraft workshop, photo exhibition and information corner. There were also guest booths, prepared by the Inclusion Ambassadors, which were designed to enhance participants’ understanding of different types of SEN and removing their misunderstanding and prejudice. During the IDEA Campaign, a photo exhibition was held for a year 4 Sociology student, Chloe Tim Yen TSE. Although Chloe has suffered from cerebral palsy and has to rely on electric wheelchair for her daily movement, she still wants to share her view and personal experience in daily life hoping to encourage and inspire more people to be aware of SEN through her photos.

Indonesian Night 2018: “A Journey to Devata and Unity”
印度尼西亞之夜 2018：「向眾神之島和團結出發」

In only three years, the Indonesian Night has evolved into a signature event in CityU. Hosted by Indonesian student community, it was held on February 7th, 2018. This year’s theme is “A Journey to Devata and Unity” while Devata means the Island of Gods or commonly known as Bali in Indonesia.

The evening began with the song “Indonesia Pusaka”, followed by a traditional Balinese dance, Tari Pendel, with the aim of “…bring the powerful and yet calming vibes of Bali to CityU.”

The venue was filled with laughter and amazement during one of the events highlights the theatrical drama. The whole room was amazed when one of the actors asked an audience member whether he had seen another character in the drama! The well-made props used in the drama added even more vibrant colors to the show.

Although none of the students were professional actors, they all did their best when facing this challenge. Their efforts were not wasted because, just by looking at how the audience greeted every scene the drama ended between scenes, obviously the guests had great enjoyment.

In addition to the food, which was loved by everyone, the organizing team had carefully considered the cultural and the event was frequently mentioned. The event has not only brought the Indonesian community even closer but also has enhanced the interest and understanding of Indonesian culture among other CityU communities.

A handicraft workshop is prepared by the Inclusion Ambassadors and the SEN students for enhancing participants’ understanding toward SEN through interaction and communication. In the small participatory workshop, the SEN students share their experiences in working with and communicating with their classmates and share their understanding and acceptance towards SEN.”

In Indonesian Night event, the students performed Tari Pendel, a Balinese dance often performed in temples or theaters by young women as a prelude to a ceremony or dance.
