The Public Law and Human Rights Forum (CPLR) at the CityU School of Law is excited to announce that our Director, Professor ZHU Guobin, receives a research grant of HK $1,937,680 from the Tsinghua University Education Foundation (HKSAR) for his project entitled “The Implementation of Hong Kong National Security Law: Localisation, Cooperation and Integration”.

Where the implementation of Hong Kong National Security Law (NSL) has had a profound and far-reaching impact on Hong Kong, especially on politics, law and legal system, administration and governance, this research project aims to study: (1) the NSL’s implications for Hong Kong legal system, particularly in relation to Constitutional Law, Criminal Law, Criminal Procedure and Judicial System; (2) the implementation by Legislature and the Judiciary in executing the NSL (as well as the Basic Law provisions on national security), integrating and synergising the NSL and local criminal law; and (3) the way to preservation the tradition and practice of the rule of law and the common law system in Hong Kong.
