	Students will give presentations and moot on selected topics and scrutinise, analyse and evaluate tort law issues and concerns.			✓
	Develop self-confidence in application of legal principles, advocacy skills and public speaking.			✓
	Foster students' growth through development of greater intellectual and interpersonal maturity.			✓

The aim of all the teaching and learning activities would be to facilitate and motivate students to gain extensive knowledge base and understanding of tort law and develop the capacity to analyse and synthesize tort law materials. In this process they will get a chance to demonstrate original thinking which will be discovery based.

4. Assessment Tasks/Activities (ATs)

(ATs are designed to assess how well the students achieve the CIOs.)

Assessment Tasks/Activities	CISO No.			Weighting*	Remarks
Continuous Assessment:					All these assessments will assess students' ability to describe and explain the main substantive rules of tort law on topics covered in the syllabus. Students will be tested by all three assessment tasks/activities on all the three CIOs. Students' ability to analyse and critically evaluate will be tested by all three assessment tasks/activities to determine their ability to analyse and critically evaluate applicable law and issues raised. Students' ability to research, analyse and resolve problems and communicate solutions in writing and orally will be tested.
1. Presentation				20%
Presentations/mooting will allow students to understand operation of law locally and globally in an innovative and critical manner		✓
Students will be required to argue his/her case based on a problem question assigned to them. Moot tutorials will be held on problems and students will be asked to present arguments on behalf of the plaintiffs and defendants. All students will be required to contribute to tutorial discussions whether they are making a presentation or not. In moot, class will be divided into two teams (Plaintiffs and Defendants) and would be asked to submit their written submission. Tutor will provide the track change comments on each submission to assist students to correct their mistakes. Each team will be further divided into counsels and legal research teams, so that every student gets a change to discover knowledge whether in terms of interpretation of substantive law, evaluation of law or application of law. Confidence building and students' maturity.			✓
2. Assignment				30%
Students' ability to research, analyse and resolve problems, and communicate solutions in writing will be tested.			✓
Examination: (duration: 2 hours)
50%
Students' ability to apply the principles of tort law to given situations and resolve problems will be tested.			✓
				100%

* The weightings should add up to 100%.

Please note for this course assessment tasks are divided into examination (50%), Assignment (30%) and Presentation (20%). The motive of all the tasks used will be to motivate students to develop extensive knowledge base and sharpen their research and communication skills. These assessment tasks are formulated by the instructor to integrate learning as a part of teaching and initiate an informed and guided process to unravel knowledge from the collection of materials and information and own it as 'knowledge through discovery' and critical thinking.

Grading of Student Achievement: Standard (A+, A, A to F). Grading is based on student performance in assessment tasks / activities.

To pass this course, students must obtain an aggregate mark of 40% and a minimum of 30% in written examination and in coursework activities i.e. tutorials and compulsory assignment. Coursework for this purpose means those ways in which students will be assessed other than the end of session examination. Please note that end-of-course/semester examination would be an open book 2 hours written exam.

It must be noted that the final mark allocated to students will be based on the participation in interactive classroom activities during lectures and tutorials. It is therefore, strongly recommended that students must attend all of the lectures/tutorials and participate in class/tutorial activities that will be a part of a final assessment.

Assessment will be formative to enable students to demonstrate their capacity to understand, analyse and apply rules and principles of tort law. This aim will be assess the instructional method of Problem-Based Learning (PBL) that will be used throughout the semester. It will also be essential to assess summative ability of students to synthesise primary and secondary material with a view to solve novel tort law problems.

5. Assessment Rubrics

(Grading of student achievements is based on student performance in assessment tasks/activities with the following rubrics.)

Assessment Task	Criterion	Excellent (A+, A, A-)	Good (B+, B, B-)	Fair (C+, C, C-)	Marginal (D)	Failure (F)
1. Presentation (20%)	Capacity to determine issues, analyse and critically evaluate them while applying relevant law. Confidence building and students' maturity	High	Significant	Moderate	Basic	Not even reaching marginal levels
2. Assignment (30%)	Students' ability to research and critically analyse tort problems using relevant law; determine solutions and communicate then in clear English.	High	Significant	Moderate	Basic	Not even reaching marginal levels
3. Examination (50%)	Students' ability to identify and critically analyse tort problems using relevant law; determine solutions and communicate then in clear English.	High	Significant	Moderate	Basic	Not even reaching marginal levels

Course Leader has already provided the call numbers of all the books to be used.

Other Materials

Reference should be made to legislation and law reports both in Hong Kong and in other jurisdictions. For Hong Kong reference should be made to:

- The Hong Kong Cases (HKC)
- The Hong Kong Law Reports and Digest (HKLRD)

Online Resources

In order to keep track of new developments on law of tort particularly in Hong Kong students are expected to use various library electronic resources on law including databases like LEXIS.com, HK Law Databases and Westlaw International. Please note this will improve student's research skills.

Reference should also be made to web-sites, for example The Times (newspaper) for its law reports. Simply reading textbooks will not provide sufficient up- to-date knowledge of developments in tort law that is essential for achieving good marks in this subject.
