Teaching and Learning Activities (TLAs)

TLAs	Brief Description	CILO No.	Hours/week (if applicable)
1	Seminar	Learning through lecture deliveries, reading books, journal articles, adopted online resources, and library databases to acquire basic concepts of organizations. This will involve conceptual inputs on management practices.	1, 2	In class 26 hours

2	Interactive exercises	Learning through in-class exercises, experimental games, and case studies to develop students' analytical capabilities in interactive problem solving as well as in discovery and innovation. All these are facilitated by instant feedback from the instructors.	1, 2, 3	In class 13 hours
3	Interactive team projects	Learning through conducting a team project to develop group skills. Through team-based exercises, students will have extensive opportunities to work as a team player during the entire semester.	1, 2, 3

Assessment Tasks / Activities (ATs)

	ATs	CILO No.	Weighting (%)	Remarks (e.g. Parameter for GenAI use)
1	Interactive exercises and in-class discussion- During the second portion of the seminar, students are encouraged to have more interactions and experiential learning based on a student-centred approach. Through different activities (e.g., experimental games, simulations, role plays, case studies, and in-depth discussions based on newspaper and professional articles), students will have opportunities to apply theories to explain practical problems in the workplace and come up with creative solutions.	3	10

2	Coursework assignment(Team projects) -Coursework assignment is designed to assess the student' s competence level in mastery and creative application of organization and management skills, capability in discovery on significant management issues, and ability to work independently and collaboratively.	3	30
3	General quizzes-The general quizzes ensure that students are learning throughout the semester. The content of the general quiz will reflect a comprehensive coverage of the course material.	1, 2	15
