Part II Course Details

Abstract

This course introduces students to basic theories, key concepts, and core issues in public governance. In addition to learning about the institutional, social, and cross-sectoral contexts of public governance, students will be familiarized with key aspects of the public policy process and dynamics in public organizations. Major course objectives include (1) helping students understand basic theories and concepts in public governance; (2) promoting students' understanding of different philosophical and normative orientations adopted by public governance scholars; (3) providing students with opportunities to apply established theories and concepts to address specific public governance problems; and (4) honing students' much-needed skills in public speaking and teamwork. Course objectives can only be attained with the active participation of students in class. Each student will be expected to complete required readings prior to class meetings, make oral presentation(s), submit written assignments on time, attend scheduled tutorials, and contribute critically and constructively to class discussions. Literature selected for this course is primarily from leading public administration journals, including some "classic" writings as well as more contemporary thought on each topic.

Course Intended Learning Outcomes (CILOs)

	CILOs	Weighting (if app.)	DEC-A1	DEC-A2	DEC-A3
1	Identify the scope, nature, major features and the values of public governance, and review critically the different approaches in the study of public administration		x	x
2	Examine the key concepts and theories in public governance, relate them to the real-life issues, and evaluate critically the competing values inherent in the bodies of administrative theories.		x	x
3	Analyse the different modes of delivery of public service, the rise of New Public Management (NPM), and differentiate the main ideas of traditional public administration and NPM.		x	x
4	Apply the concepts and theories to analyse public governance issues and the challenges facing Hong Kong and the world today		x	x	x
5	Appraise the indicators/principles of good governance, critique about their relevance to non-western cultures, and evaluate the quality of governance in Hong Kong or other jurisdictions.		x	x	x

A1: Attitude

Develop an attitude of discovery/innovation/creativity, as demonstrated by students possessing a strong sense of curiosity, asking questions actively, challenging assumptions or engaging in inquiry together with teachers.

A2: Ability

Develop the ability/skill needed to discover/innovate/create, as demonstrated by students possessing critical thinking skills to assess ideas, acquiring research skills, synthesizing knowledge across disciplines or applying academic knowledge to real-life problems.

A3: Accomplishments

Demonstrate accomplishment of discovery/innovation/creativity through producing /constructing creative works/new artefacts, effective solutions to real-life problems or new processes.

Teaching and Learning Activities (TLAs)

TLAs	Brief Description	CILO No.	Hours/week (if applicable)
1	Lectures	Students will - acquire knowledge of the concepts, values, and development of public governance - develop their analytical and critical capabilities to discuss public governance issues - apply the theoretical knowledge to analyse empirical cases.	1, 2, 3, 4, 5
2	Canvas	On-line availability of lecture materials, questions, response, debate, and discussion on readings, lectures materials, and contemporary issues in Hong Kong.	1, 2, 3, 4, 5
3	Tutorials	Students have to read the essential readings before the tutorial which would enable them to - analyse and debate on key issues and concerns in the field of public governance - apply the public governance theories to analyse issues in a specific context - generate new ideas on selected topics in which they will conduct research and analysis - evaluate critically the quality of governance in Hong Kong or other jurisdictions - Participate in a public management research project	1, 2, 3, 4, 5

4	A combination of individual and group work; problem-based investigation, group discussion and team learning	- Each student has to give a class presentation on a public governance concept or approach (chosen from the tutorial list) and illustrate their understanding with applications and concrete examples - Apart from a short individual presentation, students will also be divided into groups to conduct in-depth study on a Hong Kong public governance issue. - Students will summarize the literature; look up the reference materials and data from the library, internet, documentaries and the mass media; analyse and re-organize the research materials, generate new perspectives, integrate their ideas, construct their argument, design their analysis, and give a class presentation of their case study in tutorial sessions. - Students will comment on each other' s performance and appraise their classmates' presentation skills and research analysis.	1, 2, 3, 4, 5
5	Essay-writing	Students have to write a group paper of approximately 2,500 words.	1, 2, 3, 4, 5

Assessment Tasks / Activities (ATs)

	ATs	CILO No.	Weighting (%)	Remarks (e.g. Parameter for GenAI use)
1	Participation in tutorial discussion and research project: Students' active participation in tutorial discussion -- through providing examples, synthesizing, analysing, appraising and reflecting on other students' responses -- would facilitate group learning.	1, 2, 3, 4, 5	10
2	Individual video presentation and short paper: Each student will be assigned to give a class presentation on a tutorial topic related to public governance concepts, approaches or issues.	1, 2	15
3	Group presentation and paper: Students have to construct the main ideas of their research topic and answer questions raised in class. The tutor will comment on the strengths and weaknesses of the presentation, help students to re-organize their argument, and give suggestions for improvement in writing-up the term paper. The paper has to be appropriately referenced and footnoted.	2, 3, 4, 5	25

Additional Information for ATs

End-of-course examination: Closed book examination. Both short and long questions will be set to test students' command of the subject, their depth of understanding, innovative ideas and critical interpretation of public administration issues.

Note:

If a course has both coursework and examination components, students are required to pass BOTH the coursework assessment AND the examination before they can be awarded an overall passing grade of the course.

Assessment Rubrics (AR)

Assessment Task

1. Participation in tutorial discussion

Excellent (A+, A, A-)

Demonstrating very positive and proactive attitudes in tutorial discussions; showing superior preparation of the essential readings before coming to class; and very active interaction in class with unique ideas and insightful questions

Good (B+, B, B-)

Demonstrating good and positive attitudes in class discussions; showing good preparation of the essential readings before coming to class; and active interaction in class with some stimulating ideas and insightful questions.

Fair (C+, C, C-)

Demonstrating good attitudes in class discussions; showing adequate preparation of the essential readings before coming to class; and some interaction in class but no stimulating ideas and little insightful questions.

Marginal (D)

Demonstrating non-positive attitudes in class discussions; showing inadequate preparation of the essential readings before coming to class; and little interaction in class with no stimulating ideas or insightful questions.

Failure (F)

Demonstrating negative attitude in class discussions; showing poor preparation of the essential readings before coming to class; and no interaction in class at all.

Assessment Task

2. Individual presentation and paper

Excellent (A+, A, A-)

The overall quality of the written paper is good.

Fair (C+, C, C-)

Demonstration of adequate analysis and writing-up of a project report about the public administration issue discussed in the presentation. Rudimentary understanding of the research topic, adequate application of concepts to real-life issues; average performance in analysis and evaluation of the public admin. issue with some illustrations. The overall quality of the written paper is satisfactory.

Marginal (D)

Marginal analysis and writing-up of a project report about the public administration issue discussed in the presentation. Poor understanding of the research topic, little application of concepts to real-life issues; below average performance in analysis and evaluation of the public administration issue with little illustrations. The overall quality of the written paper is below average.

Failure (F)

Wrong analysis and poor writing-up of a project report about the public administration issue discussed in the presentation. Very poor knowledge of the research topic, wrong application of concepts to real-life issues; poor performance in analysis and evaluation of the public administration issue with irrelevant or wrong illustrations. The overall quality of the written paper is poor.

Assessment Task

5. Final written exam

Excellent (A+, A, A-)

Scoring 85% or above in the exam; evidence of extensive knowledge base in the subject matter; demonstration of excellent critical and analytical thinking.

Good (B+, B, B-)

Scoring 70% or above in the exam; evidence of good knowledge base in the subject matter; demonstration of critical and analytical thinking.

Fair (C+, C, C-)

Scoring 55% or above in the exam; evidence of adequate knowledge base in the subject matter; demonstration of some critical and analytical thinking.

Marginal (D)

Scoring 40% or above in the exam; evidence of some knowledge base in the subject matter; limited critical and analytical thinking.

Failure (F)

Scoring 39% or below in the exam; no evidence of adequate knowledge base in the subject matter; no critical and analytical thinking.
