BA in English: An Introduction

City University of Hong Kong
22 Faculty members from 11 countries and regions, including Hong Kong, Canada, Singapore, Britain, United States, Korea, India, and Mainland China.
100% of BA students graduated with work-related experience from the year 2014 to 2018
Students participate in at least one international learning experience, such as exchange (1-semester long, credit-bearing study at a partner university), study tour and overseas internship.
BA in English

Programme Statement
The BA in English programme equips students with theoretical and practical knowledge in English language, literature, and professional communication. Our courses develop students’ ability to analyse critically the English language and its use in a variety of genres, modes, and media. Upon completion of the programme, students will have acquired the skills and attitudes essential for successful communication in linguistically and culturally diverse contexts. The programme prepares students for a wide range of professions and academic pathways.
Students will…

- Develop communicative competence in English in a wide range of local and international contexts.
- Apply theories of linguistics, communication and literary and cultural studies to discover and analyse the way language is used in a range of settings.
- Generate and execute innovative language-based projects individually and through effective collaboration.
- Acquire global perspective
- Apply a spirit of discovery and creativity to the study of English.
